Amendments to World Para Athletics Rules and Regulations 2018-2019

Dear President/Secretary General,

Pursuant to Clause 2.5.2 of the World Para Athletics Rules and Regulations 2018-2019, World Para Athletics has decided to amend Rule 7.3, Rule 14.2 and Rule 24.17 with immediate effect. We consider these amendments are necessary to clarify the interpretation and application of these rules.

You may find the aforementioned amendments in the attached Appendix. Should you have any further questions please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,

Haozhe Gao
World Para Athletics Senior Manager

142	24.17 (first Comment)	Amend	Note (i): For Seated Throws Events, except where the first three rounds are held in two or more pools an extra minute shall be added between the third and fourth throws. COMMENT: In a practical sense, the Chief Judge or the Referee is in a position to allow additional time between throws if he determines that the athlete is not ready, or if the officials are not ready. For Seated Throwing the time clock should be initiated after the passing of the implement to the athlete and when the sector is ready and officials are out of the way. This may require some sort of audible instruction from the Chief Judge to the athlete.	Note (i): For Seated Throws Events, except where the first three rounds are held in two or more pools an extra minute shall be added between the third and fourth throws COMMENT: In a practical sense, the Chief Judge or the Referee is in a position to allow additional time between throws if he determines that the athlete is not ready, or if the officials are not ready. For Seated Throwing the time clock should be initiated after the passing of the implement to the athlete and when the sector is ready and officials are out of the way. This may require some sort of audible instruction from the Chief Judge to the athlete. When the athlete finishes the third throw and the measurement is completed the time clock must be initiated for the one minute break. During the one minute break period the implement should not be provided to the athlete unless the athlete requests it. If the athlete asks for the implement before the one minute break has elapsed, then the time for the forth throw shall commence immediately (i.e., in the moment the implement is handed to the athlete and when the sector is ready and officials are out of the way).	This amendment provides clarity regarding the one minute break period between the third and fourth throws in Seated Throws Events.
